[Editorial] Steve Mulroy as a diamond in Shelby County, TN.

Steve Mulroy is the District Attorney of Shelby County, Tennessee. He is a diamond in Shelby County. He is a genius in the legal circles in the State of Tennessee. His approaches about social problems are analytical, rather than fragmentary.

Generally speaking, it is very understandable that violent crime is the urgent and important issue which has such priorities in terms of implementing DA policies and authorities because Memphis and Shelby County have such social problems.

However, we recommend the DA office to have a second look in terms of the white-collar crime and its related hybrid crime in Shelby County because some elements of such crime can or may be connected to such violent crime here in Shelby County.

Steve Mulroy is an exceptional person in the legal circles in Tennessee. The case of his character is very rare in the United States in terms of as a person who has prosecutorial power. He is intelligent. He is unassuming, humble, or unpretentious. But his humility does not cover his illustrious intelligence.

Steve Mulroy can or should be reelected as a DA if he wants. Mr. Mulroy can or should be a governor in the State of Tennessee in the future if he wants. Mulroy can or should be a justice in the Supreme Court in Tennessee, too, if he wants. Mulroy can or should be a President of the United States of America someday in the future, if he wants, because he is qualified to lead this nation. He can or should be a justice in the Supreme Court in the United States, too, if he wants.

The Memphians and the Tennesseans sometimes saw lopsided politicians performed some immature political attacks towards Mr. Mulroy. However, Mulroy successfully showed his well balanced judgment and opinion.

Steve Mulroy is a diamond in Shelby County where the reputation of the legal circles is polluted and criticized. And he is handsome and likeable. Yes, he is a very likeable man.
